There was a reformer, and what do you think?
He tried to stop people from taking a drink.
Now, a drink now and then is a very good diet,
And yet this reformer would never keep quiet.

MARK KEHOE P. M.

Senate Sub-Committee Reports Favorably and His Confirmation Will Soon Follow

Washington April 8.—After much discussion by Senators James and Bradley, a subcommittee of the Senate postoffice committee today reported favorably the nomination of R. L. Brown to be postmaster of Somerset; E. W. Hackett to be postmaster of London, and Mark Kehoe to be postmaster of Maysville.

A late hearing will be given in the Scottsville and Hardinsburg postmaster contests. Senator Bradley spoke at length against confirmation of the Maysville and London Democratic appointees, maintaining that the removal of the Republican incumbents was unjustified by their records and an injustice to them. Senator James stoutly defended the appointments of Hackett and Kehoe and the committee sided with Senator James by a vote of three to one.

The Flemingsburg and Clay Democratic appointees will be reported favorably.

SHOOTING SCRAPE

In West Second Street a Rather Strange Affair—Thomas Brewer Plings Frank Caudill in the Hip With 38-Revolver.

Yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock, Thomas Brewer, aged 20, who recently came in the spotlight for causing the Grand Jury to go after Maysville saloonists, shot and seriously wounded Frank Caudill, aged 23. The 38-caliber ball struck Caudill in the hip and he fell to the street in front of the Cotton factory.

Brewer started to walk away when Caudill tried to arise, and the former took another shot at the wounded man. Mr. Harry C. Curran was passing down street and saw Brewer point the pistol at Caudill and yelled at Brewer not to shoot, but he blazed away.

After the shooting a crowd went after Brewer, but he stood them off until induced by Mr. Curran that no harm would be done him.

Capt. James M. Dunn, who was near them, arrested Brewer and hauled him to Chief Mackey's office and he was later placed in jail. This was no new job for Capt. Dunn, as he had been a fearless conductor for years and knows how to handle such characters.

Caudill was removed to his home nearby where Dr. L. Brand dressed the wound, assisted by Visiting Nurse Miss Casey.

After the doctor had dressed the wound, Caudill made the following statement to Chief of Police Mackey: "I was crossing Second street in front of the Cotton factory when Brewer came along and I turned and he shot me. There had been no words or quarrel of any kind." Just before this Caudill asked if they had gotten Brewer, and when told they had, he said, "I do not want anything done with him."

W. M. Moore makes a statement as follows: "We were coming up Second street intending to go up Grey alley to Third street. We had been talking to some girls and they went into the Cotton factory, and we started diagonally across the street for the alley when Frank said: 'Wait, here is a fellow I want to see.' He turned to speak to him, and before he could say anything Brewer fired and I jumped behind a tree. Brewer fired the second time and I thought he fired at me. I thought he got his gun from Milt Gullett."

Brewer comes from Augusta and looks about 18 or 20 years old. He has been in Maysville about four weeks. Brewer, when seen at the county jail said the boys in the factory had been teasing and tormenting him and he did not intend to stand for it any longer. He said: "When he walked the street or went to his work the boys jostled him or shoved him off the walk, and asked him what he was going to do about it." They frequently applied vile epithets to him. When asked if Gullett furnished the gun, he said he had not.

Apparently Brewer does not recognize the seriousness of his offense. It is said the primary cause of the shooting is a she-mule.

YE
Corn Raisers

In this day of progressive farming, it has become absolutely necessary to secure the largest possible returns from the land, and as corn has become the most important and valuable crop, special attention should be given to the selections of both the seed and the planter. We believe that in selling you the John Deere "Oblique Selection" two-horse corn planter, we are giving you the very best planter on the market today. "Oblique Selection" is the name given this perfected seed dropping device which repeated tests show is as far ahead of the old edge drop as the edge drop was ahead of the round hole plate. It takes its name from the fact that the surface of the hopper bottom and the openings for the seed cells are oblique or sloping. With the old edge drop, the kernels had to be tipped on edge before they could enter the cells at all. The weight of the corn in the hopper interfered with this action—consequently cut down the accuracy. The John Deere Planter overcomes all these old fashioned troubles, and we would like you to come in during this week's Opening Demonstrations and hear about it and see the machine. There's an expert here who can answer all your questions.
